Table 1. Service features

Feature	Delivery specifications
Licence to use and copy software product updates	The customer receives the licence to use and copy the software product updates for all supported systems covered by the original software licence. The customer can use and copy updates to HP or third-party software on each system covered by this service as described in Exhibit E16, HP Terms and Conditions of Sale and Service and appropriate exhibits.
Software product and documentation updates	As HP releases updates to HP software, the latest revisions of the software and reference manuals are made available to the customer's system manager or designee. For selected third-party software, HP will provide software updates as such updates are made available from the third party, or HP may provide instructions on how to obtain any software updates directly from the third party. For certain products, the customer may be offered a choice of media. An access code or licence key – or instructions for obtaining an access code or licence key – will also be provided to the customer when it is required to install or run the latest software revision.
Electronic software support	As part of this service, HP will provide access to electronic and web-based software-related tools and services. As a Software Support Service contract holder, the customer has access to services freely available to all registered software support users, plus additional capabilities such as searching knowledge databases and downloading HP software patches. If software patches and updated information for HP-supported third-party products are made available to HP by the original software manufacturer, the customer may also have access to these. For some HP products, the Software Update Manager (SUM) – an online service for software updates – is available as an option. The SUM allows the customer to download software and documentation updates, order physical media, view order status and history, and receive software update notifications via e-mail.
Access to technical resources	The customer can access HP technical resources via telephone, electronic communication or fax (where locally available) for assistance in resolving software implementation or operational problems. An HP authorised representative will contact the customer to begin software technical support service within 2 hours after the service request has been logged, if this time falls within the contracted coverage window.
Problem analysis and resolution	HP provides corrective support to resolve identifiable and customer-reproducible software product problems. HP also provides support to help the customer identify problems that are difficult to reproduce. The customer receives assistance in troubleshooting problems and solving configuration parameters.
Escalation management	HP has established formal escalation procedures to facilitate complex software problem resolution. Local HP management coordinates problem escalation, rapidly enlisting the skills of key problem-solving experts throughout HP and selected third parties.
Software features and operational support	HP provides information on the latest product features, known problems and available solutions, and operational advice and assistance.
Problem isolation	Problem isolation to the software product is provided. The customer is informed if the problem is perceived to be hardware related. If the customer's hardware is covered under an HP Hardware Maintenance Onsite Service agreement, a service request will be logged to the diagnose-before-dispatch desk on the customer's behalf. With customer approval, a per-call service request will be logged on the customer's behalf for problems related to hardware not covered under a Hardware Maintenance Onsite agreement.
